I-294 CORRIDOR PLANNING COUNCIL
September 15, 2015 – Meeting Summary

The second meeting of the Central Tri-State Tollway (I-294) Corridor Planning Council took place Tuesday, the September 15, 2015, at the Northlake Village Hall. Illinois Tollway Executive Director Greg Bedalov and Northlake Mayor Jeff Sherwin welcomed the Council followed by a call for public comments, of which there were none.

Rocco Zucchero, Deputy Chief of Engineering for Planning, led a brief presentation outlining the agenda for the meeting. Bryan Wagner, Environmental Policy and Program Manager, presented a recap of the first Environmental Working Group meeting that was held August 18, and Aimee Lee, Senior Manager of Strategic Planning, reviewed the draft guiding principles. After a discussion and some revisions, the guiding principles were adopted.

Council members were then broken out into small groups to discuss potential solutions and ideas to the issues and opportunities previously identified by Council members and stakeholders. These issues included: congestion, flooding and drainage, freight and freight diversion, system access, economic development, aesthetics, pedestrian and bicycle amenities, noise and technology. After a recap of the small group discussions, the meeting adjourned.
